Clinical Pastoral Education

Education

Mount Sinai Health System is an accredited provider for Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE). CPE is a clinical training program that teaches interns and residents to provide chaplaincy care to patients and loved ones within the Mount Sinai Health System while under supervision.

Residencies

Mount Sinai Health System also offers yearlong CPE Residency programs. The goal of the CPE Residency is to prepare residents to become board-certified health care chaplains. Building on the internship's focus on developing students' capacity to enter into genuine, empathic, and mutual relationships, the Residency curriculum focuses on the Standards of Practice for Health Care Chaplains.

Our outstanding CPE Residency offer three units of CPE and includes a $35,000 stipend and benefits. Qualifications include a graduate degree, one unit of CPE, and an admissions interview.

The 2019 CPE Residency begins on 07/15/19 and ends on 07/10/20. Applications are received on a rolling basis; there is no application deadline.

Director of Spiritual Care at Mount Sinai Beth Israel

Jo.Hirschmann@MountSinai.org

Rabbi Jo Hirschmann is a board certified chaplain and an ACPE Certified Educator. A chaplain who has worked in hospice and psychiatric settings, she currently serves as the Director of Spiritual Care and Education at Mount Sinai Beth Israel. She is a co-author of Maps and Meaning: Levitical Models of Contemporary Care, published by Fortress Press, and a number of articles about chaplaincy practice.

Rabbi Rachel Van Thyn, BCC, ACPE

Certified Educator Candidate

Rachel.vanthyn@mountsinai.org

Rabbi Rachel Van Thyn is a board certified chaplain and an ACPE Certified Educator Candidate. After working in the Jewish community in social justice-oriented positions and in the Jewish camping world, she discerned a call to the rabbinate. She was ordained through Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in New York City, and served as Associate Rabbi at Temple Beth-El of Great Neck on Long Island, NY. She completed her chaplain residency at Mount Sinai Beth Israel, primarily as part of a palliative care team. As a Certified Educator Candidate, she is working towards being certified as a CPE supervisor. Additionally, she works at Mount Sinai Hospital with patients, families, and staff in the cardiac ICU setting. Her professional interests include chaplain research literacy, experiential learning, as well as staff care.
